HIGHER LEARNING COMMISSION

CASE STUDY

The Higher Learning Commission (HLC) is a private, non-profit accrediting agency founded in 1895 which accredits degree-granting post-secondary educational institutions. HLC partnered with Americaneagle.com to replace their custom-built legacy system with a modern and flexible solution built in Salesforce ecosystem. HLC and Americaneagle.com worked together to meet key business requirements while leveraging Salesforce tools to enable HLC to automate and track membership serving interfaces, accreditation processes, and system integrations of supporting applications within HLC's customized Salesforce instance, Radix. HLC also utilized Salesforce Lightning UI and Web Components to create a modern and dynamic user interface.

Americaneagle.com developed a customizable, flexible self-service portal for HLC constituents that offers digital flexibility for the HLC team in the future.

FOLEY FAMILY WINES

CASE STUDY

Foley Family Wines is a portfolio of highly acclaimed wines from vineyards around the world. It owns more than two dozen wineries around the world and each is equipped with its own distinct wine style, legacy, and approach to hospitality. As its portfolio continued to grow, Foley Family Wines began to outpace the standard digital solutions used by most of the wine industry. It needed a digital partner to replace its antiquated operational and backend technology with a more flexible, versatile solution.

Americaneagle.com implemented a new digital ecosystem to empower a personalized journey for each Foley Family Wines' customer. The ecosystem now consists of the following Salesforce solutions: Sales Cloud, Service Cloud, Commerce Cloud B2C, Marketing Cloud, Order Management, and MuleSoft. Beyond the Salesforce suite, the ecosystem integrates with other category leaders for subscription management, loyalty programs, and a mobile-centric POS provider.
